

Introduction

The Staff Handbook, designed specifically for Classified Employees of Henderson State University, is not intended to be an employment contract. The material it contains should not be considered as a binding agreement between HSU and its employees. Classified Employees include all permanent employees of the institution except the faculty and administrators.

The purpose of the Handbook is to provide, in a general way, basic information about the employment process, employee benefits, general policies and procedures, holidays, leaves from official duties, and general campus information.

All information in this Handbook is subject to change whenever management decides that such change is appropriate. Although periodic updates to this Handbook will be issued, you should be aware that changes may have occurred since the last revision date.

Please become familiar with the material in this book and refer to it when you have questions about policies or benefits. When you are issued updates to the Handbook, be certain to change all pages being revised and become familiar with the new material. If you have questions that are not adequately answered by the Handbook, you should address such questions to your immediate supervisor or to the Personnel Office.

Benefit Plans as outlined in this booklet have been written to help the employee easily understand the basics of each plan. The exact terms of the plans are available in the Personnel Office.

When you terminate your employment, you will be asked to return this Handbook to the Personnel Office. Please do no mark on the cover or damage it in any way since it may be issued to other employees in the future.

EMPLOYMENT PROCESS

NON-DISCRIMINATION POLICY

Henderson State University, as an educational institution and as an employer, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, marital, veteran or disabled status. As a committed equal employment opportunity employer the University maintains an active affirmative action program and works continually to assure that it complies with and enforces all rules and regulations of Title VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, The Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

The first six months of your employment with the University is considered a probationary period. This period gives you a chance to decide whether you wish to remain with us, and it gives the University an opportunity to determine whether your qualifications meet the requirements of your job.

However, HSU reserves the right to terminate an employee any time during the employment relation, including during the first six months of employment. Additionally, successful completion of the probationary period is not a guarantee of continued employment.

SALARY

The basic factor that determines an employee's salary is job classification. Each classification is assigned to a salary range consisting of a minimum, several intermediate levels, and a maximum. New employees are appointed at the minimum salary for the job classification.

Classified employees are considered for an increase on their eligibility date. An eligibility date is established on the date of permanent employment. Salary increases for classified employees shall be based solely upon results of a state approved performance evaluation system and the availability of funds.

WORK SCHEDULE

The regular work schedule during the fall and spring semesters is eight hours per day, Monday through Friday, beginning at 8:00 a.m. and ending at 5:00 p.m. with one hour off for lunch for a total of 40 hours per week. Lunch is from 12:00 - 1:00 p.m. unless your immediate supervisor directs otherwise. Employees should follow that schedule.

Call-in Procedure for Tardiness or Absence: If you are going to be late or absent from work, you must call and report to your supervisor within one hour of your normal starting time. If you fail to call in and report your reason for absence, you may be considered as quitting your job without notice.

Time Cards: A Time Report Record must be submitted to the Payroll Office for each Classified Employee. Time Report Records cover a two-week payroll period and are supplied to supervisors and department heads. Time Records are to be completed and submitted to the Payroll Office by noon Friday when the pay period ends.

Break Periods: The University is not required under the Fair Labor Standards Act to designate formal break periods for its employees. However, your supervisor may authorize a midmorning and mid-afternoon break of no more than 15 minutes each to be taken on campus. Break periods are not cumulative and cannot be saved and used for other purposes.

COMPENSATORY TIME

Compensatory time is defined as time earned for work performed in excess of forty hours in the work week. Compensatory time may not be earned in less than fifteen minute increments. All employees performing qualifying non-exempt work within a work week will accrue compensatory time at a rate of one and one-half times the number of hours in excess of forty hours. Non-exempt employees are eligible for compensatory time in lieu of overtime payment.

PROMOTION AND TRANSFER

To be eligible for promotion to a higher job classification, an employee must:

1. meet the minimum requirements for the higher job classification; and
2. have a satisfactory record of performance on their present job.

TERMINATION

Persons who plan to leave the employment of the University are requested to give at least two calendar weeks notice. University property, including keys, ID cards and staff handbook must be returned to the departmental supervisor. A termination notice will be sent by that supervisor through appropriate channels to the Personnel Office before the final pay check is released.

OTHER EMPLOYMENT

Other employment while working for the University is permissible as long as it does not constitute a conflict of interest and does not interfere with the assignment of the University.

EMPLOYMENT WITH ANOTHER STATE AGENCY

Approval for concurrent employment with another state agency must be arranged through the Personnel Office and receive approval from the President and the State's Chief Fiscal Officer.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

HOLIDAYS

Classified personnel are entitled to the number of holidays provided by the Legislature in the current year's appropriation bill. Employees are eligible to receive holiday pay only if they are in pay status on the last scheduled work day before the holiday and at least one hour on the first scheduled work day after the holiday. The University administration is authorized to re-arrange holiday schedules within the total number of days provided.

Departmental supervisors will be informed by the Office of the President as to the exact holiday schedule each year. If the regular work schedule or the duties of a department make it necessary for an employee to work on any of these holidays, an alternate date will be arranged as time off.

INSURANCE

Comprehensive Health Plan: The Comprehensive Health Plan is available to eligible employees at no cost to the employee. Spouses, and eligible dependent children may receive the same protection for a small fee which is payroll deductible.

Group Life with Accidental Death and Dismemberment: Life insurance, accidental death and dismemberment protection is based on the employee's annual salary. Personnel will furnish you with more information at the time of hire, if you are eligible to participate.

Liability Insurance: The University does not carry general liability insurance so any injury or property loss to an employee that is not provided for under an applicable program listed above is not covered and any claim will be made through the Arkansas Claims Commission. The institution carries no insurance for students, visitors or other non-employees.

Long-Term Disability: This program is designed to assure eligible employees an income during an extended period of disability.

Unemployment Compensation: All employees, except student workers, are covered by unemployment compensation .

Workers' Compensation: All employees are covered by Workers' Compensation. All such accidents must be reported immediately to your supervisor and an accident report completed and sent to the Personnel Office. All workers' compensation claims are administered by the Public Employees Claims Division of the Arkansas Insurance Department. All accidents must be reported to the Office of University Police.

The amount contributed by Henderson to each plan is determined by state law and the HSU Board of Trustees on an annual basis. Contact Personnel if you need additional information.

LEAVE

Annual Leave: Employees working 1000 hours or more per year in a regular salary position accrue annual leave. Full time employees accrue annual leave according to the following timetable:

YEARS OF EMPLOYMENT	MONTHLY	ANNUALLY
0-3	1 day	12 days
4-5	1 day 2 hrs	15 days
6-12	1 day 4 hrs	18 days
13-20	1 day 6 hrs	21 days
21-over	1 day 7 hrs	22.5 days

Employees working less than full-time but more than 1000 hours per year accrue annual leave in the same proportion as time worked. (Example: Employees working half-time accrue half of the annual leave noted on the table.) Annual leave is cumulative; however, no employee may have over 30 days on December 31 of each year. During the calendar year, accrued leave may exceed 30 days, but those days in excess of 30 will be lost if they are not used before December 31 of each year. Annual leave shall not be earned during a period of leave without pay when such leave is for 10 or more days within a calendar month.

Years of employment may be continuous state employment or an accumulation of service when the employee was out of state service for a time. However, seniority for reinstated employees will be computed on completed years of service only.

Accrued annual leave is to be requested in advance. The appropriate Supervisor will grant annual leave requests at times that will least interfere with the operations of the University. Failure to request leave in advance may result in the time off being charged as unpaid time.

While an employee is on approved annual leave, the leave may not be converted to another type of leave. Annual leave is granted based on workdays, not calendar days. The minimal annual leave amount an employee can use is fifteen minutes. No smaller amounts shall be authorized or used.

Upon termination, resignation, retirement, death, or other action by which a person ceases to be an active employee of the State, the amount due them or their estate from accrued and unused annual leave will be included in the final pay to the employee. This amount will not exceed 30 days of annual leave inclusive of holidays. No employee receiving such additional compensation shall return to State employment until the number of days for which they received additional compensation has expired.

Catastrophic Leave: Act 169 of 1991 authorized institutions of higher learning to establish catastrophic leave bank programs to be administered by the Office of Personnel Management. This pool of accrued sick and annual leave has been donated by the university's employees for use during catastrophic illness. To be eligible for catastrophic leave an employee must:

1. have been employed by the State for more than two years in a regular , full-time non-faculty position;
2. have exhausted all sick and annual leave;
3. have an acceptable medical certificate from a physician supporting your continued absence;
4. not have an injury or illness covered by Workers' Compensation; and
5. not have been disciplined for any leave abuse during the last two years.

Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA): FMLA entitles eligible employees to a total of twelve work weeks of leave during any 12-month period for:

1. the birth of a son or daughter, and to care for the newborn child;
2. the placement with the employee of a son or daughter for adoption or foster care;
3. the care of the employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent with a serious health condition; and
4. a serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the functions of the employee's job.

To be eligible for leave under this policy an employee must have been employed by the State for at least twelve months and have worked at least 1250 hours during the 12 month period preceding the commencement of the leave.

Court & Jury Duty: An employee serving as a witness, juror, or party litigant in a civil or criminal court proceeding is entitled to full compensation, in addition to any fees paid for such services or court appearances. This time will not be counted as annual leave. Employees who work night shifts and who have court or jury duty during the day will take this leave on the night shift of the day on which they served. A slip may be required indicating time in court.

Leave Without Pay: Employees may request a leave of absence without pay, not to exceed six months, unless it is granted for military leave. Leave without pay must be applied for, in advance, through the Personnel Office. However, leave without pay will not be used until all of the employee's accumulated annual leave has been exhausted.

An employee on leave of absence without pay does not accumulate leave time, participate in institutional group insurance programs in which the institution contributes, or receive pay for any legal holidays. However, this ruling does not preclude an employee from paying the total cost of any institutional group insurance programs during leave and being fully reinstated into the programs upon return to duty.

At the expiration of such leave, the employee is to be reinstated without loss of any rights, unless the position is no longer available. Employee's eligibility dates do not change as the result of leave without pay. Failure on the part of the employee to report promptly at the expiration of the leave of absence, except for satisfactory reasons submitted in advance, is cause for dismissal.

Military Leave: Permanent, full-time employees who are members of the National Guard or any of the Reserve branches of the Armed Forces will be granted leave for (15) working days annually, plus necessary travel time for annual training requirements. This leave will be granted without loss of pay, and it will be in addition to regular vacation time. Each employee who requests military leave must furnish a copy of their orders for their personnel file. Up to (15) military leave days may be carried over to the succeeding year for a maximum of (30) military leave days for that calendar year.

An employee who is drafted or called to active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States or who volunteers for military service shall be placed on extended military leave without pay; and upon application, within 90 days after the effective date of their release from active duty, they will be reinstated to the position vacated or to an equivalent position at no loss of seniority or any of the other benefits and privileges of employment. The right of re-employment shall conform with all Federal government rules and regulations.

Employees called to duty in emergency situations by the Governor or the President will be granted leave with pay not to exceed 30 working days, after which leave without pay will be granted. This leave will be granted in addition to regular vacation time.

Sick Leave: Sick leave is provided to employees working 1000 hours or more in a regular salary position. Sick leave can be used only for the following:

1. when the employee is unable to work because of illness or injury or for medical, dental, or optical treatment; or
2. the death or serious illness of an employee's immediate family. Immediate family includes the husband, wife, mother, father, or any individual acting as a parent or legal guardian of an employee, sister, brother, grandparents, in-laws (mother, father, son, daughter, brother, sister), child(ren) either natural or adopted or presents some other type of legal relationship with the employee.

Employees may be required to furnish a certificate from an attending physician for five or more consecutive days of sick leave. Failure to provide this form may result in time being charged to annual leave rather than sick leave. Persons leaving State employment are not entitled to payment for accrued sick leave since this is not an earned benefit. Excessive use of sick leave may result in a poor performance rating and abuse may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination. Failure to call in and report your absence within one hour of your reporting time may be considered as having quit your job.

An employee working 1000 hours or more in a regular salary position accrues sick leave at the rate of one day for each complete month of service, up to a maximum of 120 days.

Employees working less than full-time but more than 1000 hours per year in a regular salary position accrue sick leave in the same proportion as time worked. (Example: Employees working half-time accrue one-half day per month.) When an employee is laid off due to budgetary reasons or curtailment of activities and is reinstated within six months, accrued sick leave will be restored to their credit. Sick leave may not be accumulated during a period of leave without pay when such leave totals ten or more days within a calendar month.

Sick leave is granted based on workdays rather than calendar days. Sick leave cannot be taken for less than fifteen minutes. Non-workdays, such as weekends and holidays falling within a period of sick leave is not charged as sick leave.

Absence due to illness or disability is charged in the following order: 1. Earned sick leave; 2. Earned annual leave; then 3. Leave without pay.

Maternity leave is to be treated as any other leave for sickness/ disability. However, an employee may elect a leave of absence without pay without exhausting accumulated annual/sick leave.

Employees who are absent from work due to a temporary occupational injury or illness who are entitled to Workers' Compensation benefits may, upon proper application, use their accrued sick leave as a supplement to Workers' Compensation to receive weekly benefits from both sources equal to, but not more than, their normal weekly pay at the time of the injury or onset of illness. For example, an employees' normal weekly pay is $130. He is receiving $65 per week from Workers' Compensation, and he elects to receive an additional $65 sick leave. He is therefore using sick leave at one-half the regular rate or two and one-half days for each week of disability. Employees receiving Workers' Compensation benefits for a permanent disability are eligible for full pay from both sources.

Requests for sick leave should be applied for in advance if possible; however, if the nature of the illness makes this impossible, notification of absence should be given on the first day of absence to the head of the department or the person in charge of the office. An application for sick leave should be filed within two days after the return to duty. If this notification is not made in accordance with the procedure outline, such absence can be charged to annual leave or leave without pay at the discretion of the appropriate Vice President and/or supervisor.

A maximum of three days may be charged to sick leave in case of a death in the employee's immediate family as previously defined in this section. If additional time off is required due to family responsibility, an employee may use annual leave or apply for leave without pay. Every consideration will be given to the employee in reviewing this request.

REMISSION OF FEES FOR FACULTY/STAFF

Definition

The Faculty/Staff remission of registration fees is a fringe benefit to the employees of the University and not a student scholarship. The maximum amount of this benefit is 100% of the general tuition for undergraduate work and a charge for graduate work of $20.00 per credit hour. Any additional fees, such as the Garrison Center, Activity, Vehicle, Lab, Infrastructure, Health, and Technology, etc., are not covered by this benefit. REMISSION OF FEES FOR DEPENDENT/SPOUSE

Definition

The Faculty-Staff Dependent/Spouse remission of registration fees is a fringe benefit to the of the university and not a student scholarship. For spouses and/or dependent children the registration fee is $10.00 per credit hour with no cap. Fees such as the Garrison Center, Activity, Vehicle, etc., are not covered by this benefit. There is no remission of fees for graduate courses for spouses and/or dependent children. The following guidelines apply for awarding of this benefit:

1. Persons receiving this benefit must be a member of the immediate family and a dependent or spouse of a HSU employee. (Dependency status is determined by prior year tax return which must be submitted with the application.)
2. This benefit is available only to employees who are permanently employed at least half time by the University and who are compensated by the University. (Adjunct faculty and persons whose salaries are paid by agencies other than the University are not eligible.)
3. Surviving dependents benefits, which became effective January 1, 1998, apply to survivors of full-time only. The following restrictions must be observed:

A. The remission of registration fees applies to surviving dependents of a full-time faculty/staff member who dies after five (5) consecutive years of employment provided that the initial college enrollment of the dependent begins within 15 years and continues until the undergraduate degree program is fulfilled or until age 23 is reached.

B. A surviving spouse must enroll for classes within one year of the death of the employee and continue until the undergraduate degree program is reached or five years has passed, whichever occurs first. Further, if a surviving spouse should remarry before either of the aforementioned conditions occurs the eligibility shall immediately expire or at the end of the semester if currently attending classes.

Requirements

The appropriate application forms as designated by the Financial Aid Office and the Office of the President must be submitted annually. The form will apply to the fiscal year of the second summer term, fall, spring, and first summer term. Forms may be secured by contacting the Financial Aid Office.

GARRISON ACTIVITY AND CONFERENCE CENTER

The Garrison Activity and Conference Center has become the hub for the university family. The activities area includes two tartan-surface basketball courts, a low impact cardio-vascular fitness room, three racquetball courts and a game room. The Reddie Cafe, Post Office, Student Activities Board and the Student Government Association also call Garrison home. Scheduling for the Garrison Center is done through the administrative offices of the Garrison Center.

GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

From time to time, non-academic personnel of Henderson State University may encounter situations concerning policies, programs, or practices they find unsatisfactory. In most cases, problems can be solved through a discussion with the appropriate supervisor or administrator. However, on occasions when informal discussion does not resolve the problem, a formal process to handle the complaint may be utilized. Employees who initiate a formal complaint or grievance in accordance with the following procedures may do so without penalty or fear of reprisal. The policy for handling non-academic grievances will be as follows:

1. The employee having a problem or concern will first discuss the problem or concern with his/her immediate supervisor. It is the duty of the supervisor to give an impartial hearing, make a thorough investigation and, if possible, promptly arrive at an answer or settlement which is mutually agreeable. The supervisor should be able to complete this step within three working days.
2. Should the supervisor not respond to the discussion within three working days or if the employee is not fully satisfied with the response, the employee has three working days to submit a written (formal) complaint or grievance to the supervisor.
3. Within three working days after receiving the written complaint or grievance from the employee, the supervisor must submit a written response to the employee.
4. At this point, should the employee feel that the matter has not reached a mutually satisfactory conclusion, the employee has the option of submitting the written complaint to the appropriate department head within three working days of receiving the written response from the supervisor.
5. It will be the responsibility of the department head to gather appropriate data from the grievant and supervisor in order to make an objective evaluation of the situation. The department head will have three working days to gather data, interview participants, etc., before submitting a written response to both parties.
6. If the department head's response is not mutually satisfactory, the grievant has the option of appealing to the Non-Academic Grievance Committee. The chairman of the Non-Academic Grievance Committee must receive the written grievance within two working days after the grievant receives the department head's response. The committee will study the written grievance along with other relevant data. The committee will also have authority to gather additional data and/or interview other parties if deemed necessary. The Non-Academic Grievance Committee will have six working days after receiving the grievance to complete its work and pass its findings to the President of the University. The President will review the findings and render a final decision. 7. Within two working days after the President's decision, the employee, if still dissatisfied, may request by letter to the President that the decision be reviewed by the Board of Trustees.

Once the formal process has been initiated, copies of the written complaint and subsequent documentation must be forwarded to Personnel where a permanent file will be maintained.

Grievants are allowed the assistance of a representative, a Henderson State University employee, of his or her own choosing at each step of the procedure, except the initial informal discussion with his or her immediate supervisor. If requested by the grievant, the administration will appoint someone to assist in presenting the facts of the grievance.

The grievant has the option of discontinuing the grievance process at any point. A written request for its termination is to be sent to Personnel which will notify all concerned parties.

Grievance Committee Composition: The Non-Academic Grievance Committee consists of five active members and three alternates. Appointed by the President each year, members will be selected from each of the five areas represented by the HSU Staff Senate.

The President shall appoint one member as Chairperson. If one of the active members cannot or should not serve on the Committee for a particular hearing, it will be the responsibility of the chairman to appoint one of the three alternates to fill the vacancy. The Chairperson will have an opportunity to consult with the President prior to determining a vacancy or filling one.

HEALTH SERVICES

Employees have access to limited health services in the Student Health Center. The University maintains the Center under the supervision of a registered nurse. The nurse will assist employees with health problems directly relevant to their work, and the Center functions as a referral source for more specialized care.

Preventive care, such as blood pressure checks and Tuberculin skin tests, is available. There is no charge for these services.

INCLEMENT WEATHER POLICY

The majority of the students live in the dorms or in housing in the Arkadelphia area. Therefore, Henderson State University rarely closes because of inclement weather.

When the University is open, employees are expected to work. But employees who are unable to report for work because of weather conditions may choose to take annual leave or loss of pay.

Time off with pay is granted only to those employees on duty at the time of closing due to inclement weather conditions. Employees will be paid based on the number of hours that effect their shift schedule. It is understood that even in the event of closing a skeleton crew will be required to report to work. The President and each Vice President for his/her respective area will determine the composition of this crew.

A detailed copy of the inclement policy and process may be obtained from the Personnel Office.

LIBRARY

The Huie Library has collections totaling more than 250,000 volumes, 1500 periodical subscriptions, 250,000 microforms, and 25,000 audiovisual materials. For those books or periodicals not in the HSU library, students, faculty and community borrowers may request an item through interlibrary loan.

Huie Library and the Riley-Hickingbotham Library (OBU) work together under the auspices of the Joint Educational Consortium (JEC), to make available to students and faculty of Arkadelphia's university communities the resources of both libraries. The two libraries extend reciprocal borrowing privileges to students and faculty (to borrow items you must have your HSU ID card bar coded at the library); share a computerized catalog; and jointly provide weekend services, with Riley-Hickingbotham open on Saturdays with additional evening hours available Monday through Thursday. Huie is open on Saturdays and Sundays, when classes are in session, with additional evening hours Monday through Thursday.

A copy machine is located in the library and Vendacards are available for use in the copiers.

LOST AND FOUND

The University operates a lost and found service in the Office of University Police. Minor items are retained for one (1) year to allow for determination of ownership. If these items are not claimed, they are given to local charities. More valuable items are held for five (5) years, if unclaimed they are turned over to the State Auditor's Office.

MEDIA SERVICES

Media Services is the university wide audio-visual service. It is located in Mooney Hall. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

While sexual harassment most often takes place where there is a power differential between the persons involved, it also may occur between persons of the same status and sex. However, personal relationships must not be allowed to interfere with the academic or professional integrity of the University.

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to define sexual harassment and to establish a procedure whereby alleged sexually harassed faculty, staff, and students may lodge a complaint immediately and confidentially.

Policy: Henderson is committed to the maintenance of a working and academic environment free from all forms of sexual harassment. Sexual harassment violates University policy as well as state, federal, and local laws. It is neither permitted nor condoned.

It is also a violation of Henderson's policy for any employee or student at Henderson to attempt in any way to retaliate against a person who makes a claim of sexual harassment.

Any individual found to have violated the University's policy against sexual harassment will be subject to disciplinary action including, but not limited to, reprimand, suspension, termination, or expulsion. Any disciplinary action taken will depend upon the severity of the offense.

Definition: Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, request for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- (a) Submission to, or tolerance of, such conduct on or off campus is made a term or condition of instruction, employment, or participation in other university activities.
- (b) Submission to, or rejection of, such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for evaluation in making employment or academic decisions affecting the individual.
- (c) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's academic or employment performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive university environment.

Procedures: Students or employees who believe that they have been sexually harassed should first seek an informal resolution of this problem as outlined below. If that is not effective, such individuals then should pursue formal resolution of their complaint through the procedure indicated under the heading Formal Complaint Resolution. All complaints must be made within thirty (30) days of the occurrence of the alleged harassment.

(a) Informal Resolution

Employees who believe that they have been subjected to sexual harassment should report the problem promptly to their immediate supervisor or to a departmental supervisor higher up in the chain of command. Students who believe that they have been subjected to sexual harassment should report the problem promptly to an academic dean or to a vice president. The person to whom the complaint is made shall promptly begin an impartial consideration of the complaint and make a thorough investigation. If a mutually agreeable answer or settlement has not been obtained within fourteen (14) calendar days from the date of the complaint, the complainant may initiate the formal complaint procedure.

Throughout the informal resolution process efforts will be made to keep the identity of the complainant confidential.

(b) Formal Complaint Resolution

(1) Procedure: If a problem cannot be resolved through informal attempts at conciliation and the complainant wishes to pursue the matter further, he or she must file a formal written complaint. Such complaints are to be filed according to the existing grievance procedures for faculty, staff, or student as set out in the appropriate Handbook. All formal complaints will be given a full, impartial and timely investigation. During such investigation, while every effort will be made to protect the privacy rights of all parties, confidentiality cannot be guaranteed.

(2) Sanctions: If investigation of a reported occurrence of sexual harassment reveals that the complaint is without reasonable foundation, both parties will be so informed and will also be informed that no further action is warranted. If an individual is found to have violated the University's policy against sexual harassment, the investigating body will recommend disciplinary action appropriate to the severity of the offense including, but not limited to, reprimand, suspension, expulsion from the dormitories, reassignment of responsibilities, termination of employment, or expulsion from the University.
