

College of Performing Arts and Social Sciences

1100 Henderson Street

Arkadelphia, AR 71999-0001

A Message from the Dean:

Hello and welcome to Henderson State University, College of Performing Arts and Social Sciences! I am thrilled to share with you the areas of study we have within the College.

Our College is focused in two major disciplinary divisions: Performing Arts and Social Sciences. Our fully accredited Music program offers two programs of study to fit your career goals, be it in instrumental, keyboard, or vocal education, or a liberal arts music degree. Digital Media Production will prepare you for the modern media workplace by equipping you with essential knowledge in new media technologies and production. By studying the Social Sciences, you'll learn how societies and individuals interact with each other and the world, empowering you to enter fields of Criminal Justice, Sociology, Social Work, or Psychology. We also house many of the humanities disciplines, such as English, History, Political Science, and Geography. Our Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies degree allows you to customize your degree, enabling you to explore coursework and disciplines across the university. Through our diversity of offerings, the College provides an education that imparts the skills and knowledge needed to become vibrant contributors to your profession, community, and the common good.

Every single student that joins our College will receive individualized attention. Your professors are accomplished artists, scholars, and researchers and are enthusiastic and dedicated to your learning. They bring the value of discovery to the classroom, to research, and to internships and will support you every step of the way.

We are so excited you're here and can't wait to see you thrive in the Reddie Fam.

Lacy Dunn

Dean of the College of Performing Arts and Social Sciences

dunnl@hsu.edu